FACULTY

Directing and coordinating the activities of a busy, progressive school system are the responsibilities of Mr. Julius Schipper, superintendent of schools and Mr. Laverne Lampen, high school principal.

Right: a student seeks advice from Mr. Raymond Brummel, junior high school principal.

Below: this is the school board that guides, controls and enforces the rules and policies that affect ZHS. Seated in front is Mr. Richard Machiele, president; left, Mr. Elmer Hartgerink, secretary; Mr. Marvin De Witt; Mr. Robert Bennett, vice president; Mr. H. Russ Munro; Mr. Laverne Lampen, principal; Mr. Melvin Baron; Mr. Alfred Vande Waa, treasurer; and Mr. Julius Schipper, superintendent.

Administration

A LAMP UNTO OUR FEET

Using the past to foresee the future, the social studies teachers prepare students for well-adjusted lives.

Teaching history are Mr. John Rumohr, Mr. Stanley Alberda and Mr. Robert Hoover; Mrs. Rose Maatman teaches home and family living.

TEACHERS' DEVOTION TO PRO

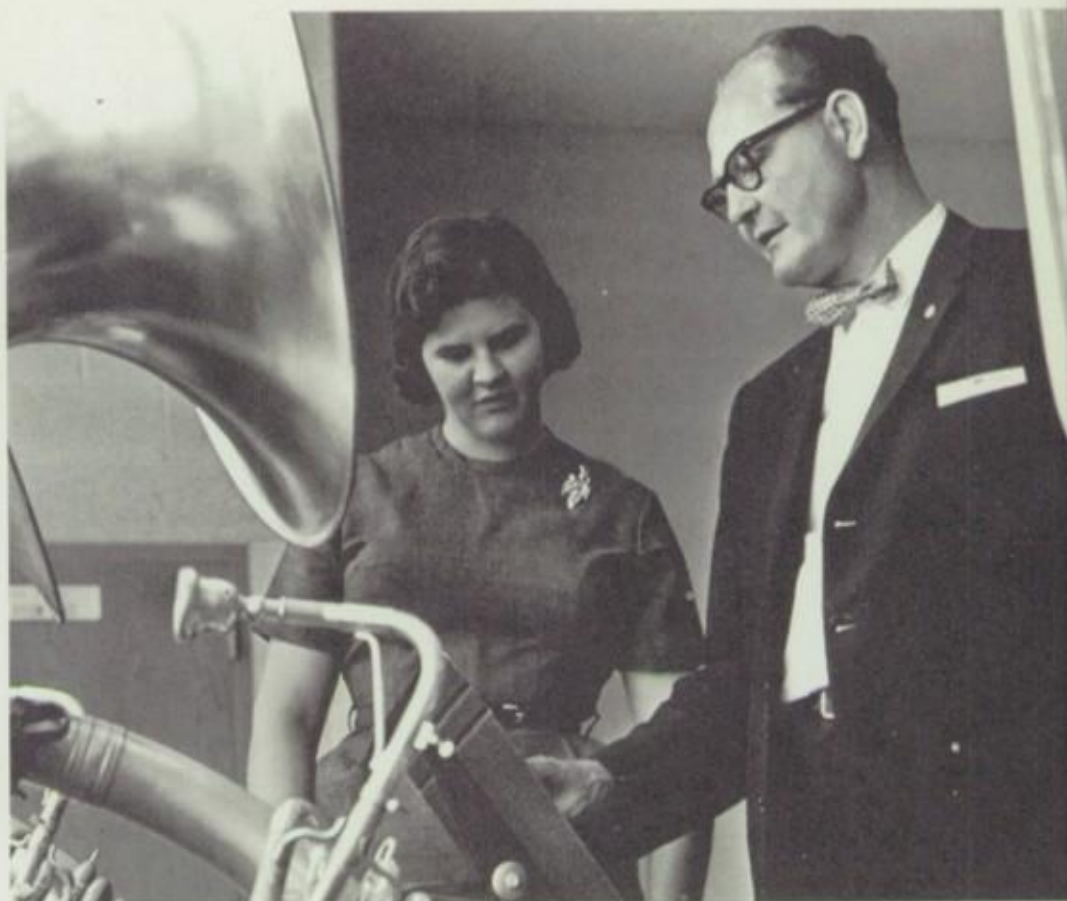

Miss Cecelia VerHage and Mrs. Jo Mans test the equipment in the language laboratory.

Their first concern is to teach students to speak and write the language and secondly to teach the cultural background of the country.

Mr. Justo Juliano introduces students to the world of art through paint, ceramics, sculpture and etchings.

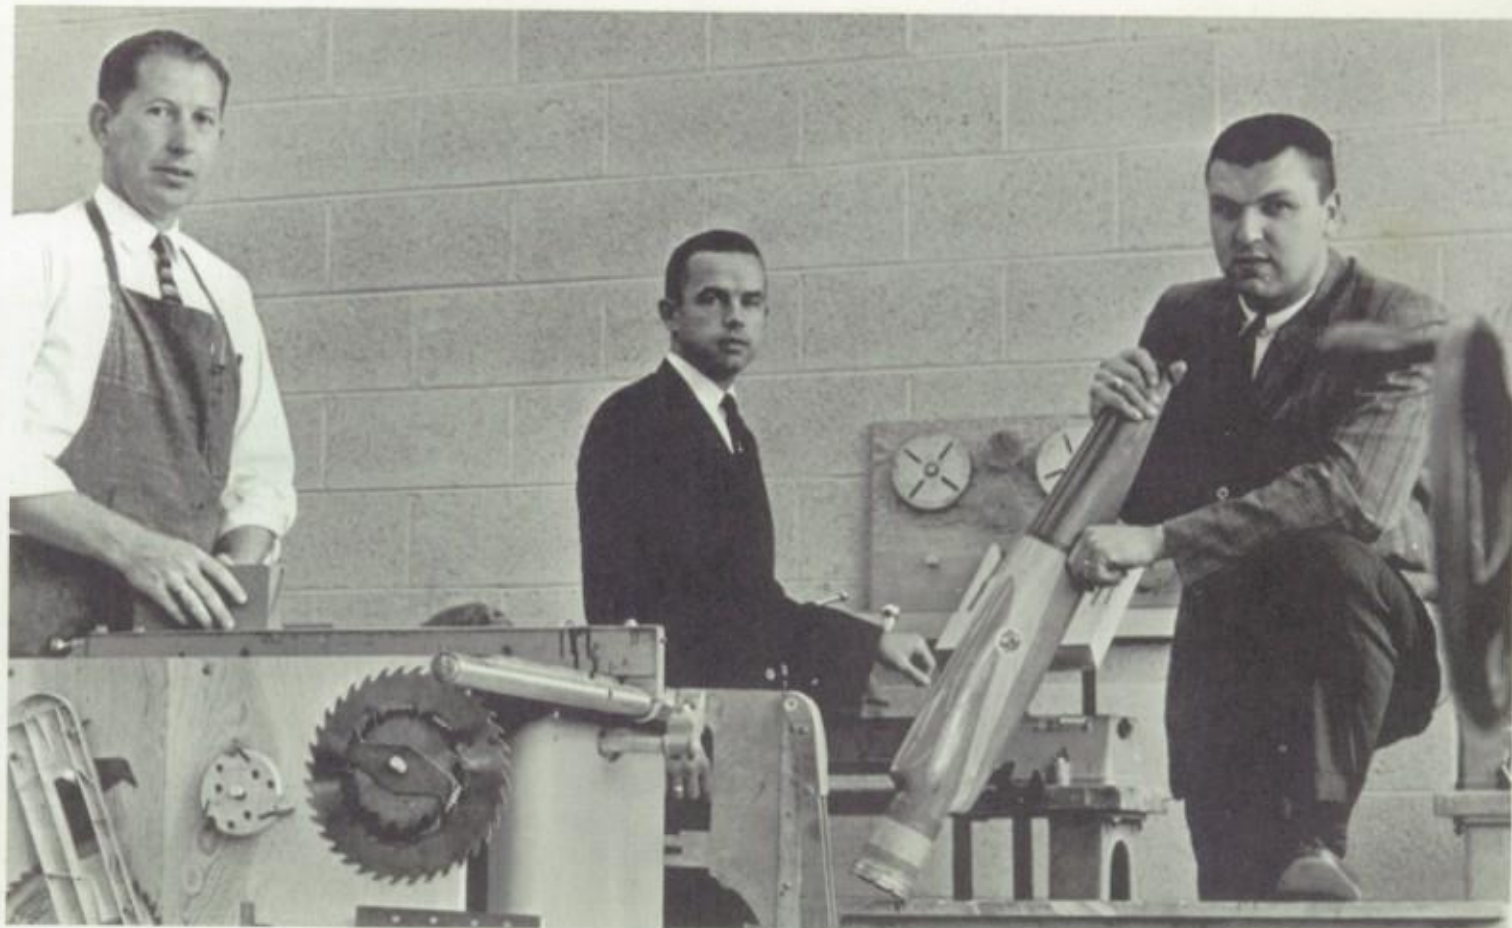

With an emphasis on both vocal and instrumental music, Miss Lois Clough and Mr. Robert Brower work together in developing the musical talents of students.

FESSION BENEFITS ZHS STUDENTS

The English department uses many visual aids in teaching grammar, speech and literature to ZHS students.

Members of the department are Mrs. Nancy Scudder, Mr. James DeVries, Mr. Edward VanHartesvelt, Mrs. Marie Saunders, Mrs. Sharon Benes and Mrs. Vivian Cook.

Talking shop are Mr. Robert Drew, Mr. Richard Forwood and Mr. Earl Siems.

Their goal is to guide students toward careers in industrial arts.

FACULTY'S SCOPE

Students' problems are of primary importance to the guidance department. Miss Mary Hager, Mr. Jarold Groters and Mr. Dean Cumings counsel on matters ranging from personal difficulties to college applications.

Displaying a familiar smile, Mrs. Daisy Boonstra, strives to instill a love of English into junior high students.

Business teachers Miss Carol Brock, Mr. William Robertson and Miss Velma Lloyd hold an impromptu departmental meeting.

BROADENED THROUGH NEA

Farming, in all its phases, is the main concern of Mr. Herbert De Kleine, agriculture teacher. He encourages boys to raise their own crops and livestock using the newest farming methods.

Mr. Glenn Fox, librarian, keeps innumerable important books, magazines and pamphlets within easy reach of the Zeeland student body and faculty.

The library is open for browsing, serious reading and study.

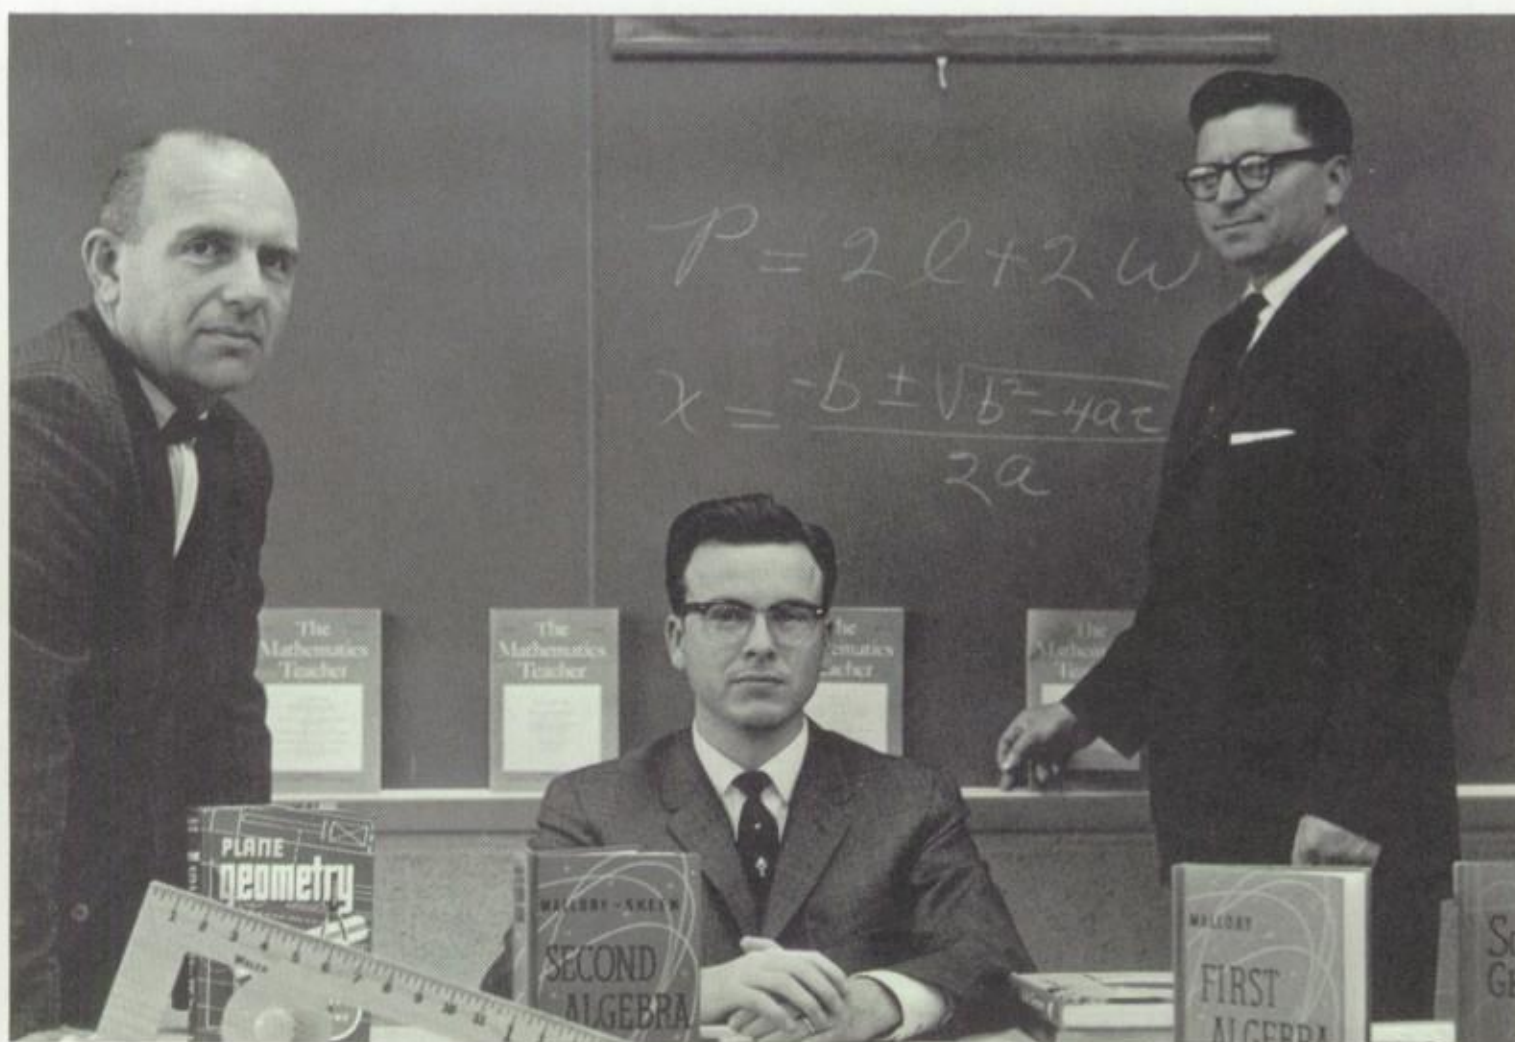

Home economics teachers Miss Julie Scherer and Miss Margaret Steed educate students for the roles they eventually will play in their homes.

The girls are taught to cook, sew and manage a household.

TEACHERS' CLUB ENCOURAGES FRIENDSHIP

Instructing students in the intricacies of numbers are math teachers Mr. Richard Flaherty, Mr. James Galer and Mr. Marcellus DeJonge.

Encircled by test tubes, chemicals and lab equipment are Mr. Calvin Fleser, Mr. Richard Hoodema and Mr. Norman Schut.

They strive to instill a desire of invention and a love of science in their students.

AMONG FACULTY

The physical education department includes Mr. Melvin Bouma, Mr. Paul VanDort and Mrs. Nancy Broersma.

They teach fundamentals of games and physical fitness.

Working in the center of activities at Zeeland are Miss Elaine Vis, bookkeeper, and Miss Iola Padding, secretary to the superintendent.

SCHOOL MAINTENANCE

Secretary to the high school principal is Miss Karen Folkert.

She also supervises attendance, announcements and student schedules.

Open to students and faculty, the cafeteria this year offered dinners as well as sandwiches and soup.

Waiting in line at the favorite time of the day are Gayle Berens, Jack Cook, Myrna Kossen, Grace Langemaat and Sandi Yonker.

PERFORMED BY CAPABLE STAFF

Head custodian at ZHS this year is Julius Bartels, center, better known to faculty and students as Juke.

Working under him are James Scheele, left, and George Nienhuis.

The big moment for seniors is when, with diploma in hand, they look into the proud faces of their parents.

Four years of study and anticipation lie behind them and ahead are the challenges of life.

ACTIVITIES

During parent--teacher conferences, Future teachers directed the parents to their students' classrooms.

Future Teachers

Future Nurses

Future nurses assisted Dr. Ralph Ten Have as he gave shots to sophomore students. The facial expressions of the students were the cause of much hilarity to those around them.

For the second time, Mrs. Sharon Benes directed the class of '63 in the presentation of "The Late Christopher Bean."

Many students never set foot on stage but were directly involved in the senior play presentation. Here are a few of the people who spent hours behind the scenes making the actors and actresses "look good!"

As the comedy which fills the earlier part of the play subsides and gives way to tense drama, "The Late Christopher Bean" reaches its surprising climax. The entire cast pictured at right, rehearsed for approximately six weeks in preparation for production in mid November.

Chorus

The sixty voices of Zeeland's chorus, under the direction of Miss Lois Clough, have contributed many enjoyable hours to their school and community this year.

A select group, these students appear at Grand Valley chorus festivals, school programs and community activities.

Glee club is composed of freshmen and sophomore girls, specially gifted in vocal music. Members appear before appreciative audiences at Christmas and Spring concerts.

Glee Club

The junior play cast rehearsed for about six weeks in preparation for their presentation of the comedy "Shy Guy."

Directing the junior class play, "Shy Guy"; Mr. Dean Cumings employed many new methods of production.

The sweat and tears which make up a play production are shed by committee members as well as the cast. Shown here are some of these people at work.

FFA consists of all boys who are in the agriculture classes. Projects including animals, crop production and conservation keep them busy throughout the year.

FFA

Home Economics

These future homemakers learn the ABC's of home management, budgeting, sewing and food preparation.

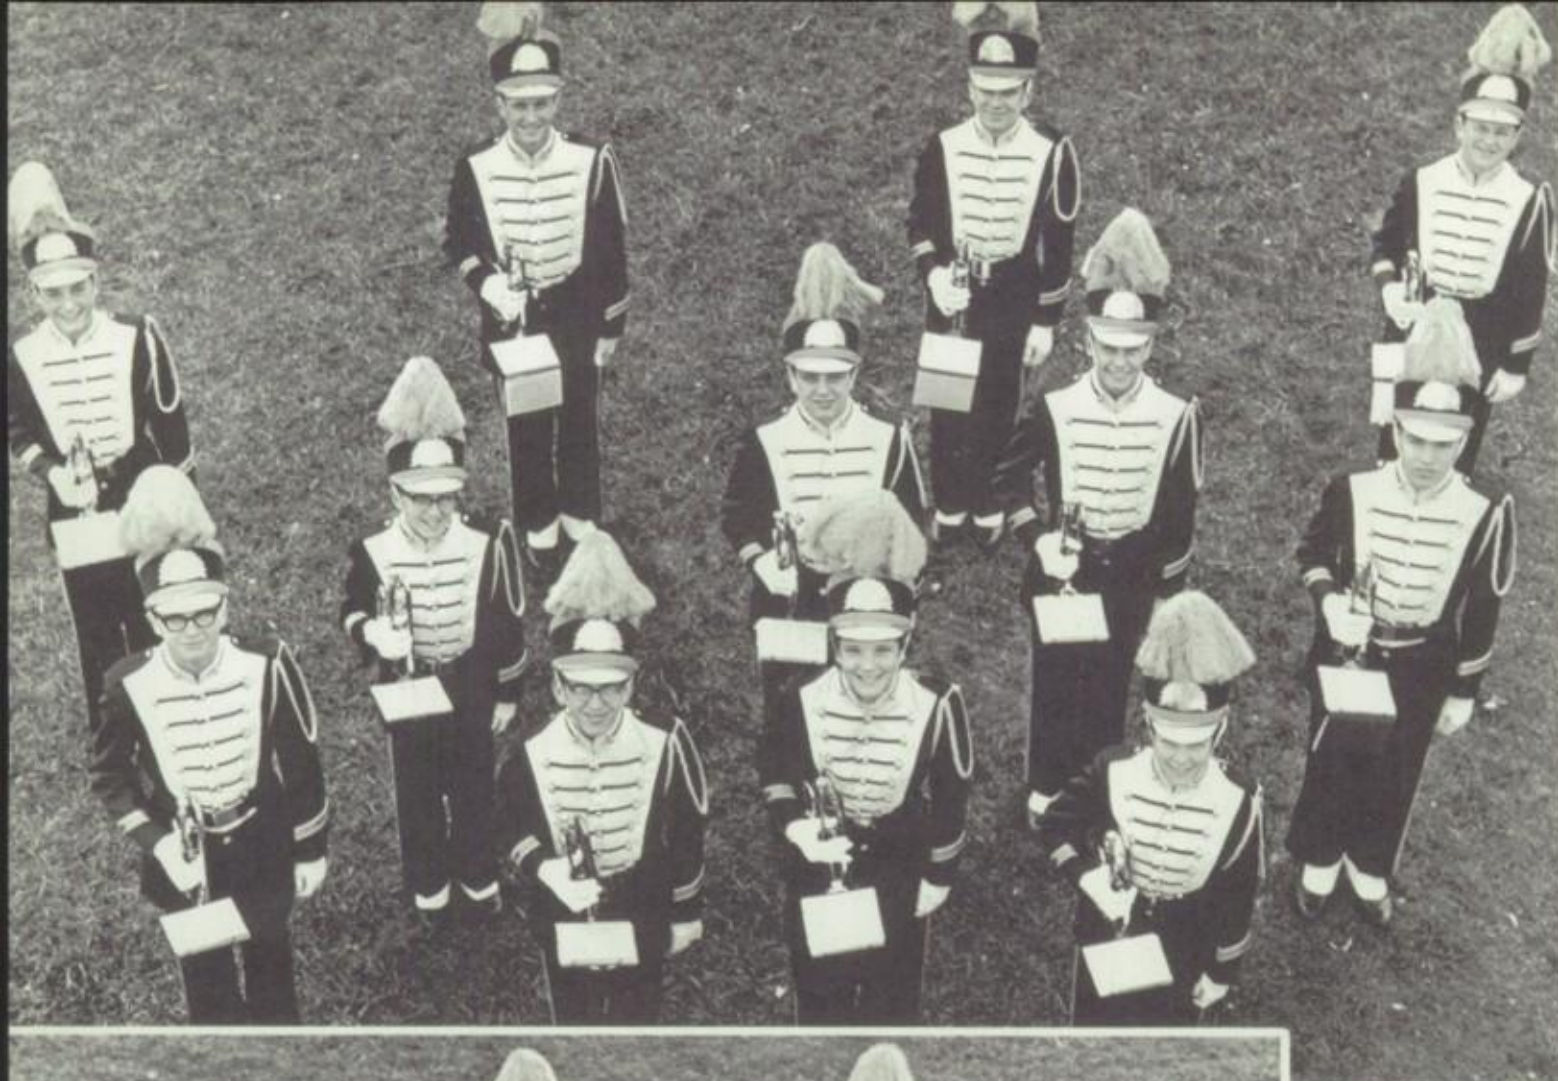

Peeper Staff

The Peeper is the eyes and ears of the student body informing it of news, activities and organization happenings. It is published by the journalism class on a bi-weekly basis.

Under the baton of Mr. Robert Brower, the senior band displays its superior musical abilities at half time shows, in the annual Christmas and spring concerts and at assemblies.

These French students form a club which meets during class. The students call themselves "Le Petit Cercle Française."

A banquet in the manner of ancient Rome, complete with togas and slaves, is the highlight of Latin club activities each year.

"Le Circle Francaise" students perform skits, sing French folk songs, play games and listen to French records at club meetings.

Senior High Student Council

The legislative body of ZHS is the student council. Elected by the students the representatives assist in the governing of the student body, promote the general welfare, develop and maintain enthusiastic school spirit and encourage better relationships between students, faculty and community.

To promote understanding and co-operation among the five schools of the Grand Valley league, this inter-school student council meets monthly. Each school is represented by four delegates and its advisor.

The Rah-Rah girls (better known as the Pep Club) enliven Zeeland's school spirit with their vigor and vitality, create new cheers and publicize all athletic events.

Student Librarians

Quill and Scroll

Working under Mr. Glenn Fox, librarian, these students gain valuable knowledge and experience in dealing with library materials.

Members of Quill and Scroll, international honorary journalism society, are chosen from the "Peeper" and "Stepping Stone" staffs. Juniors and seniors who excel in journalism receive this award.

Forensics

Mrs. Marie Saunders gives valuable pointers to local forensic winners, preparing them for the district contest.

Girls' Athletic Association

As an outlet for girls interested in athletics, GAA meets once a week to compete in both indoor and outdoor sports.

Chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, attitude and work performance, the yearbook staff meets frequently to gather information and photographs covering every facet of ZHS life.

SPORTS

Queen Bette

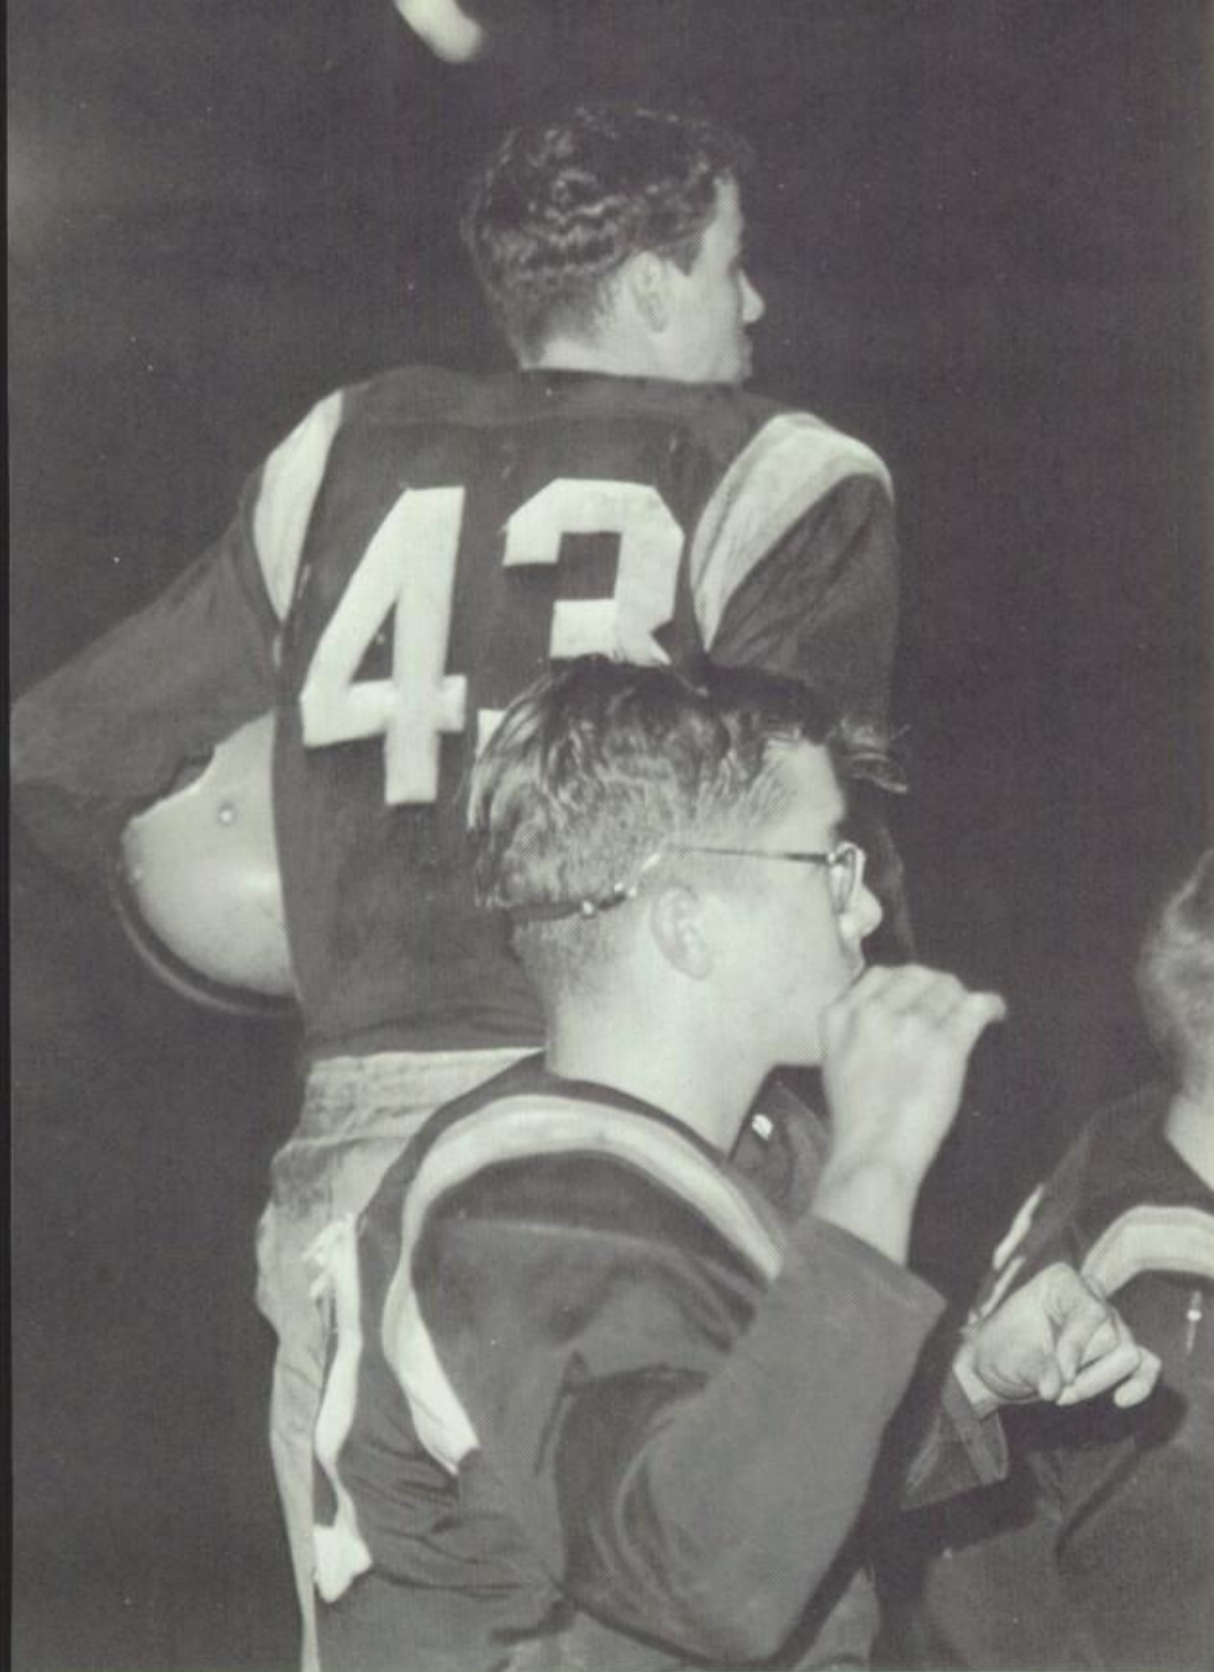

Queen's Court

Homecoming is a gala time at ZHS. Bette Van Dyke was crowned queen. She was attended by Judy Wyngarden, senior; Barb Vugteveen, junior; Linda Redder, sophomore and Linda Komejan, freshman.

A night of victory on the football field was climaxed by the homecoming dance.

Elenbaas Named to All-GV-Team

With only five returning lettermen the Zeeland Chix opened the football season, September 14, with a whopping victory over Coopersville, 30-6. In Grand Valley play East Grand Rapid's downed Zeeland 30-0 and Godwin Heights speedy veteran backfield rocked the Chix for their second straight loss, 34-6.

Rockford kept its undefeated record intact by stopping ZHS 33-13.

Amid the thundrous roar of the largest homecoming crowd in history, the Chix defeated West Ottawa 12-6 and moved into the win column in Grand Valley conference action.

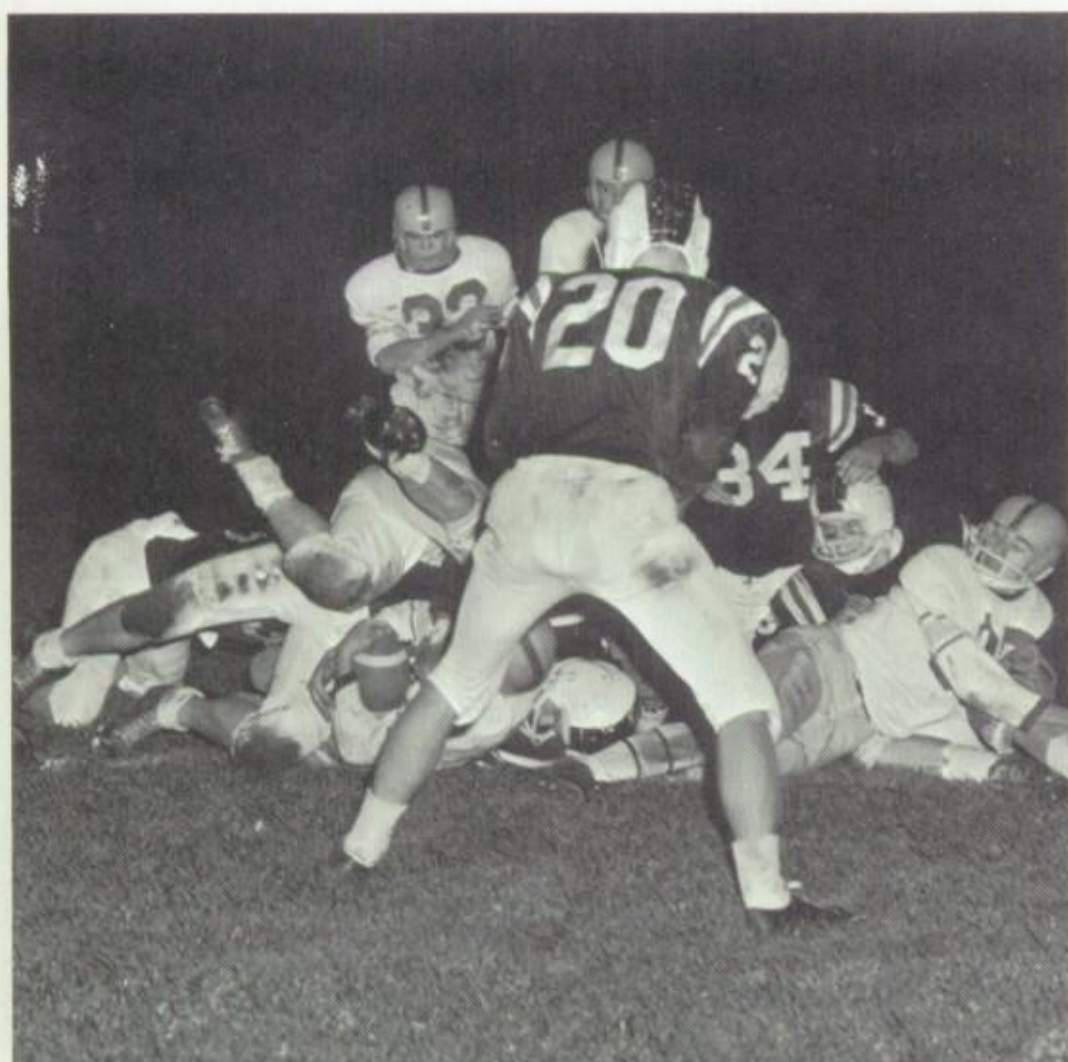

On the road again, the Chix won a squeaker over Fremont, 19-14. Two successive losses to Grandville, 26-6 and Hudsonville, 44-13, gave the varsity eleven a 3-5 overall season record and a 1-3 record in the Grand Valley conference.

Varsity Football Squad

Elenbaas recovers pigskin after ZHS line forces Panther fumble.

Zeeland High's reserve football squad finished the season with 3-5 overall record. Wins were recorded over West Ottawa, 27-20; Fremont, 19-6 and Hudsonville, 20-7.

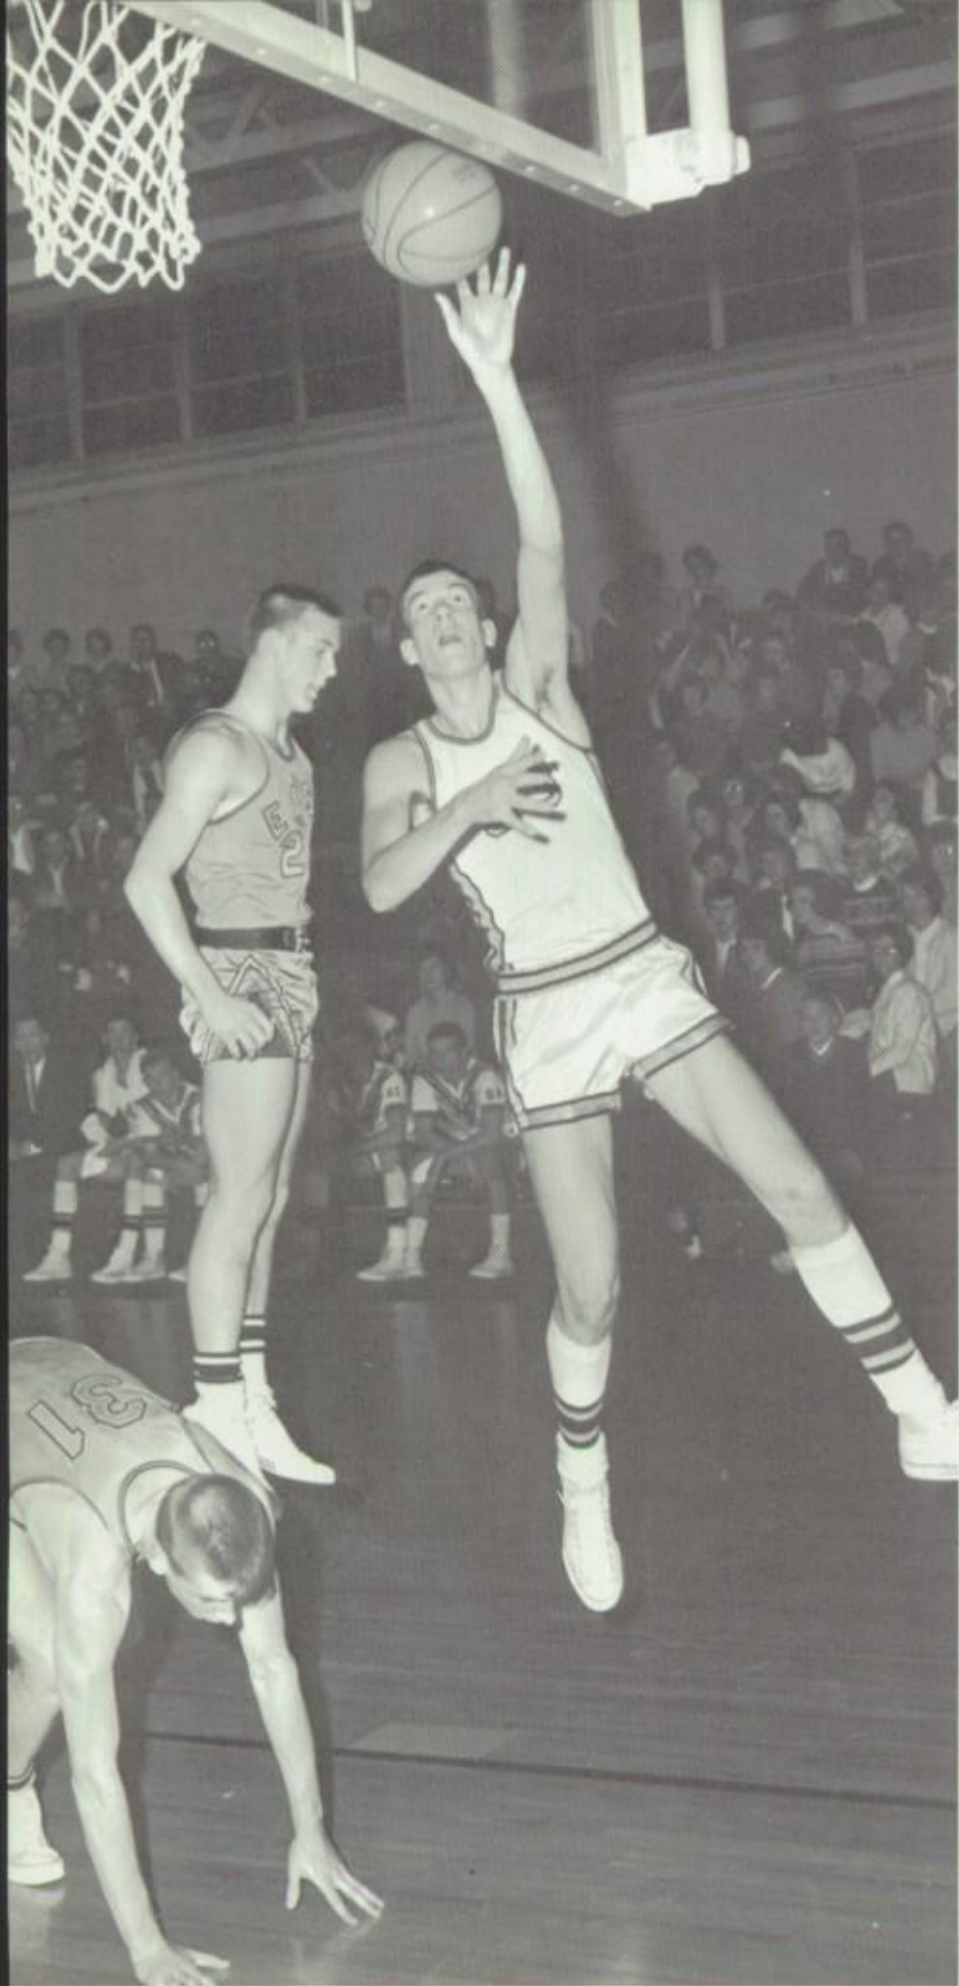

Losses included Coopersville, 12-36; East Grand Rapids, 13-27; Godwin, 13-34; Rockford, 19-25 and Grandville, 13-49.

Reserve Football Squad

A. Ter Haar speeds around end for first down against Godwin's jv.

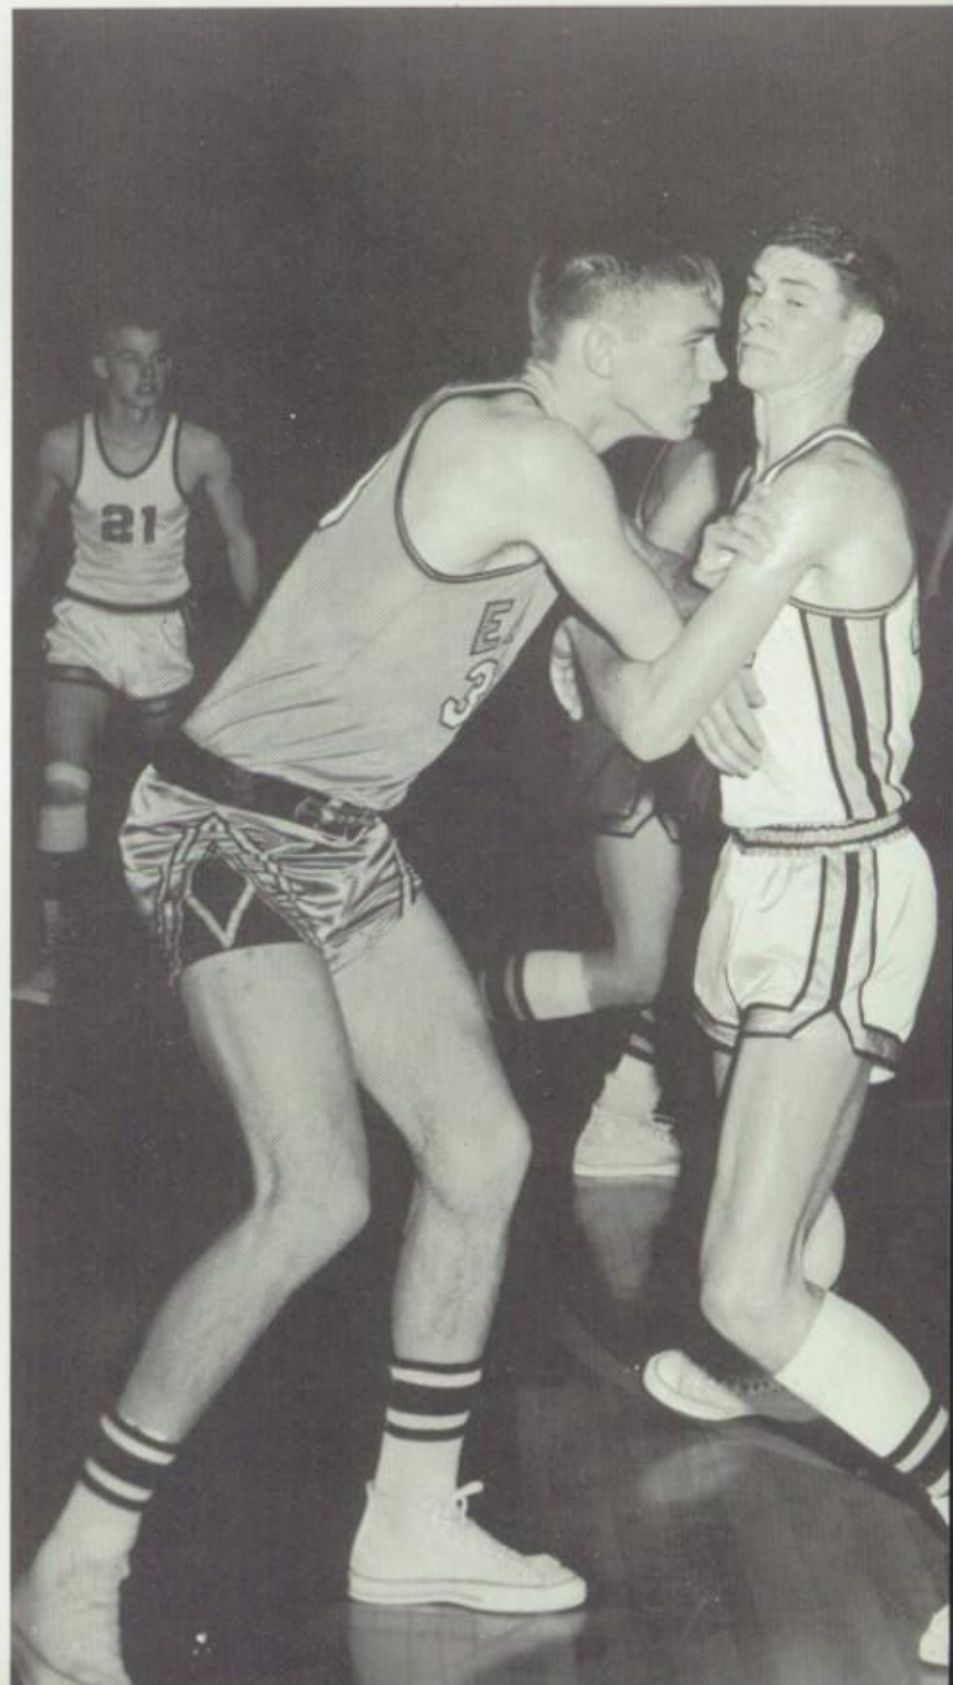

Two wins over Coopersville and an over-time victory over East Grand Rapids were the highlights of the '62-'63 basketball season.

Inexperience proved to be too much for the Chix as they posted a 3-13 overall performance and 1-8 in Grand Valley play.

Gary and Larry Boeve were the rebounding twins, taking top honors with 197 and 157 respectively. Gary was high in the scoring column with 183; junior Stan Veenstra took second place with 161 points.

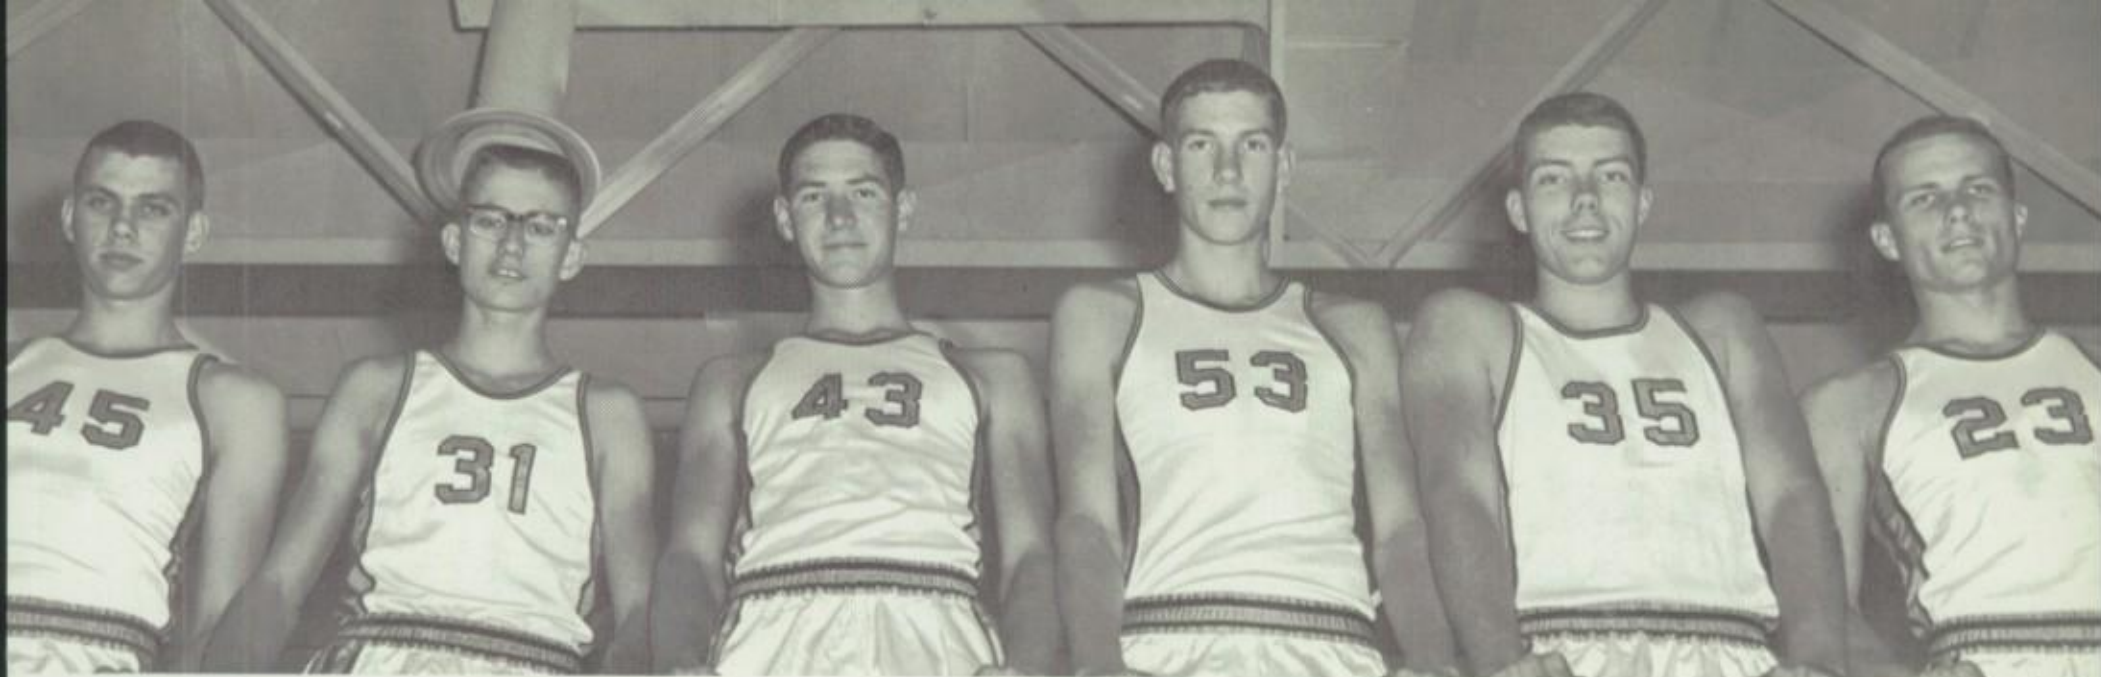

The Chix, coached by Mr. Paul Van Dort, turned in a sparkling performance in district action against ninth ranked Hudsonville. Although losing in overtime, the action of many underclassmen makes the prospects for '63-'64 much brighter.

Wrestling

Rynsburger Takes First in State

Jim Rynsburger faces a Loy Norrix opponent in Zeeland Christmas invitational.

Chix hopes were high with the approach of the '62-'63 wrestling season as nine lettermen returned. The matmen turned in a 5-8 record in dual competition with four meets cancelled due to bad weather.

In tourney action during the season the Zeeland grapplers placed sixth in the Zeeland Holiday Invitational and won the Zeeland Quadrangular. Ray Lutke was the lone champion in the Grand Valley meet, where the Chix finished fourth.

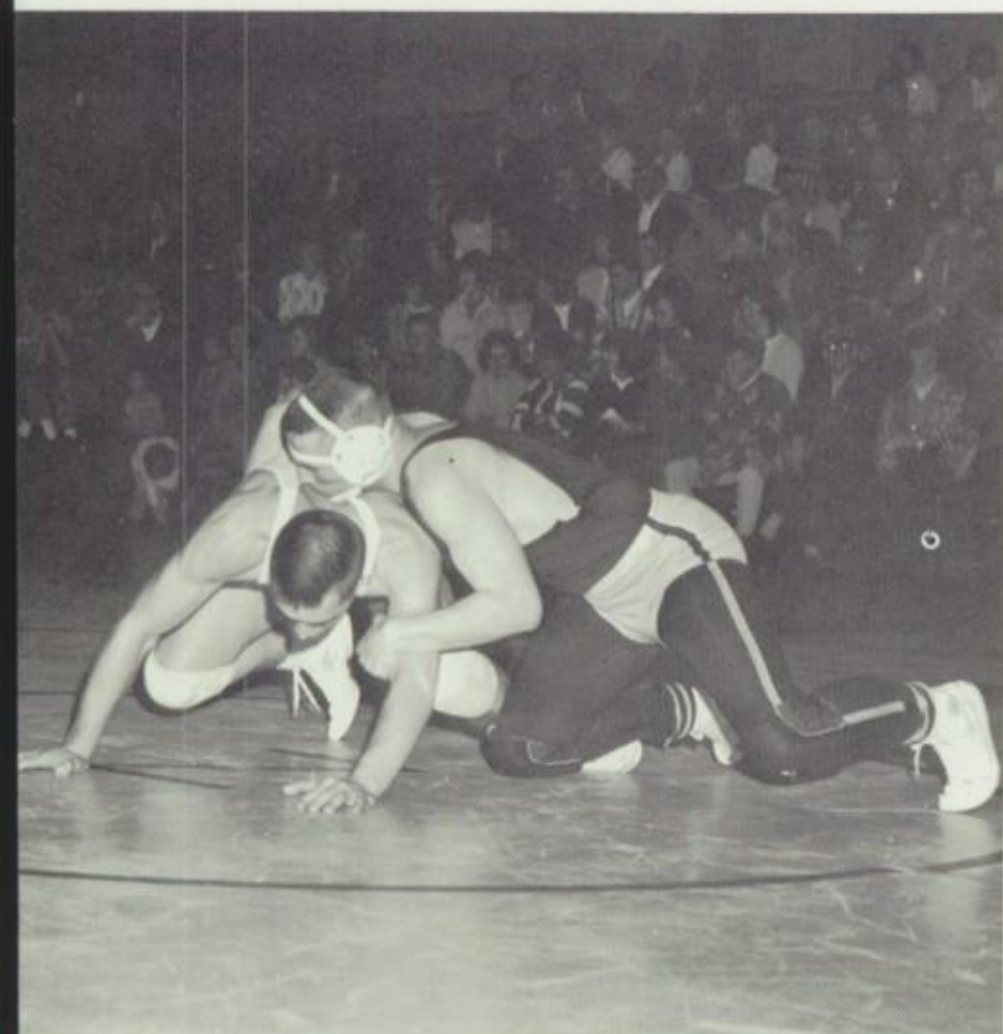

The matmen moved into state competition with J. Rynsburger, B. Zeerip, R. Pritchard and R. Lutke representing ZHS. In a thrilling overtime match Rynsburger took the 95 pound crown with a 2-0 decision over Wasilewski of Greenville.

Coaches T. Pratt and W. Flaherty saw the varsity and reserves improve steadily throughout the season. Wrestling, in its third year at ZHS, is a growing sport, generating more and more enthusiasm among athletes and spectators.

P. Douma adds riding time in a close match.

Reserve Wrestling

Doug Formsma set a new record of 9:00.

A good start sometimes means the difference between winning and losing.

Cross Country

Coach Earl Siem's cross-country squad had one of the Grand Valley's outstanding runners.

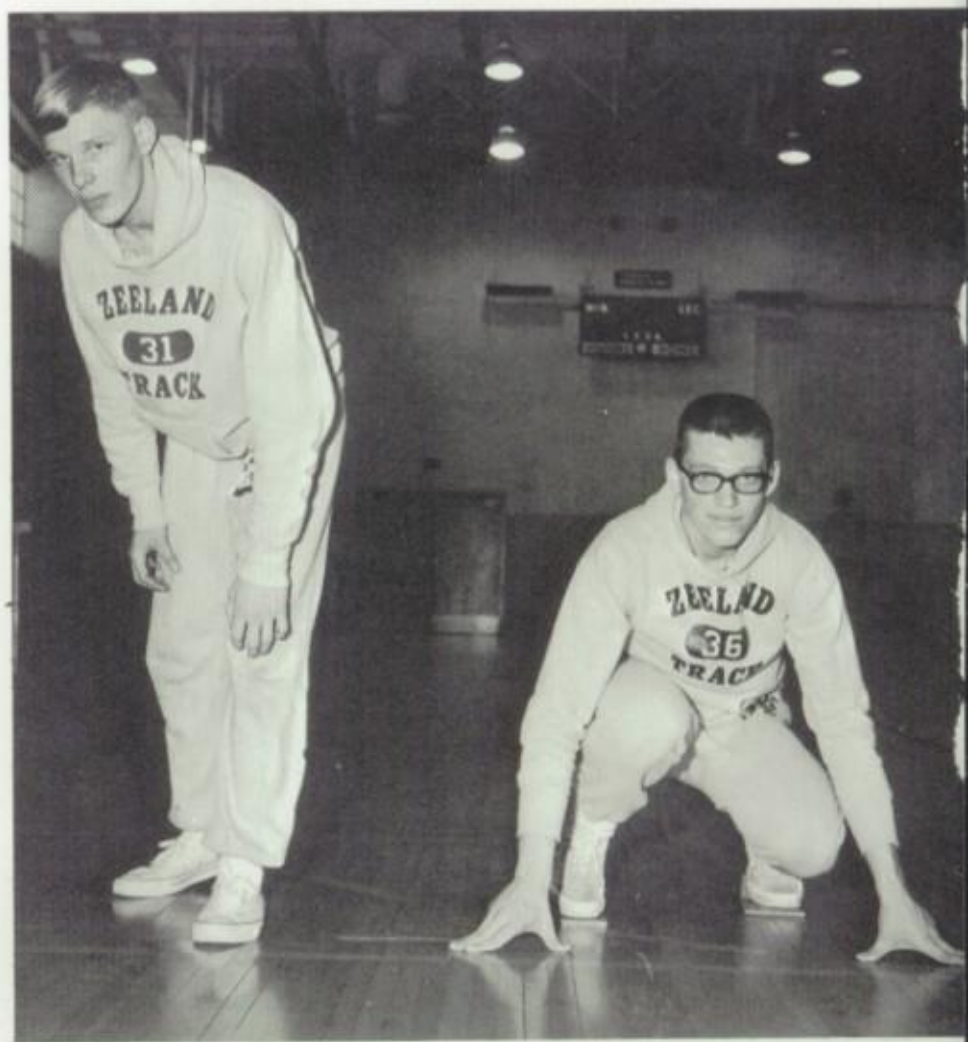

Doug Formsma established a new school record of 9:00 for the course, breaking the record of 9:08 set in 1961 by Marinus De Jong.

Despite Formsma's pace setting performance, the Chix ended the season with a 0-6 season, last in Grand Valley competition.

Boyd Machiele takes a practice leap over the low hurdles.

Doug Formsma and Jack Elzinga take starting stances during early season indoor practice.

A nucleus of six lettermen return to bolster the hopes of Coach N. Schut. Chix thin-clads will try to improve on last year's Grand Valley record (2-6).

Diamondmen Look for Second GV Crown

Chix diamondmen look to the '63 season with optimism after sharing the '62 Grand Valley crown with Grandville and West Ottawa.

With seven returning lettermen the team hopes to win the crown outright.

In the '62 season 20 stolen bases set a new school record. Rich Miyamoto's batting average (.406) was high for the team. A no hitter against West Ottawa (2-0) was chalked up to Rog Kroodsma's record.

Mr. John Rumohr coaches the varsity. Mr. William Robertson is the reserves' mentor.
